

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one

Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9

A Prayer Opportunity for Mother's Day

Our church has an opportunity to pray with Mothers in preparation for Mother's Day because out of all the Sundays of the year, this is the one

Sunday unchurched children and spouses may come to church to make Mom happy.

So below is a place for you to list the names of people the Mothers you know would like you to pray for. Ask for prayer requests and remember to not only ask biological Mothers, but the many spiritual Mothers in our church, who may have spiritual children in their lives that are precious to them and who they want to come to know Jesus.

In addition to praying for the guests who come, pray for our church body to put our prayers into practice by focusing on our unchurched guests on Mother's Day. Pray we will all be welcoming, that the sermon will touch hearts, that we will provide materials for unchurched spouses, children, and friends to explore the Christian faith.

And most of all pray that this Mother's Day will be one that will bring the greatest joy imaginable to a Mother—the knowledge that those she loves will spend forever with her and Jesus.

Please pray for:

The Lord . . . is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:9